Fall 2009
&
Winter 2010

Maryland requires a minimum of 6 in-service training hours annually for basic foster parents and a minimum of 24 in-service training hours annually for therapeutic foster parents. The advanced in-service training offered to Maryland Resource Parents through the Maryland Department of Human Resources (DHR) and University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB) Child Welfare Academy (CWA) partnership places emphasis on the health, safety, well-being, and permanency of children, youth, and teens in foster care. Through half day (3 hours) and full day (6 hours) professional development workshops, Resource Parents are provided education, resources, and tools to help respond to complex situations or issues related to caring for children, youth and teens in foster care. These advanced family centered in-service training offerings will have a positive effect in achieving permanency for Maryland's children, youth and teens in foster care. The Child Welfare Academy incorporates the comprehensive and detailed Parent Resources for Information, Development, and Education (PRIDE) In-service "CORE" modules into its advanced in-service training offerings.

Advanced in-service training for Resource Parents is offered throughout each region of the State: Western Region, Northern Region, Baltimore City, Southern Region, Eastern Region, and Metro Area. Workshop topics were identified by Maryland Resource Parents and child welfare professionals through survey and evaluation research. Only Resource Parents licensed and approved by Maryland DHR local departments of social services are eligible to register and attend the advanced in-service training offered by UMB CWA. Maryland's DHR child welfare professionals may register and attend the advanced in-service training offerings if at least one resource parent from their local department of social service agency registers and attend the same training offering. CEU Certificates are not provided. Certificates of Completion are provided.

Childcare is not available.

Cost: Advanced in-service training for Maryland Resource Parents is offered at no cost.

Expense Reimbursements:

Expense reimbursements are provided to Maryland Resource Parents (per family, per training workshop) who attend and complete advanced in-service training workshops. These expense reimbursements in the amount of $25 for half day (3 hours) training and $50 for full day (6 hours) training are intended to help contribute toward child care, travel, parking, and/or toll expenses incurred to attend the advanced in-service training. Expense reimbursements are not provided for attending CPR courses.
